This is a letter where the words thank you will be used a great deal. The first "Thank You" goes to Grace United Church of Christ and Acts of Kindness Theater Company for once again sponsoring "Hanover Has Talent" for the benefit of Changing Lives Homeless Shelter. The talent as always was excellent and I did not envy the 3 judges who had to make the decisions and choose winners. The first thing that needs acknowledged is the tremendous talent and devotion of each of the contestants. Next, every contestant was so gracious as to donate their entry fee to the Changing Lives Shelter. This also included the groups who entered as a group but donated individually. That gift was amazing ($849.00) "Thank you" Then the last surprise of the day was when the overall Grand Prize winner, 4th grader Rowan Barber, donated the $500.00 award to help the homeless. Believe me when I say he is an incredible young man and receives a great Thank You. Thank You one and all who supported this effort, for the hard work that went into the production and the wonderfully talented performers who provided a very enjoyable Saturday afternoon.

Our next round of Thank Yous go to WHVR Radio in Hanover and

Not all faith traditions celebrate Lent. Growing up Lutheran, I didn't always know this. Once, I asked a Baptism friend of mine what he did for Lent and he replied, "I use a tape roller." (He thought I was talking about lint.) But, some of us do observe Lent, which, this year, began on February 14th. (Do you know that it was 1945 the last time Valentine's Day and Ash Wednesday fell on the same day?)

Lent is a particularly holy time. It is a time when faithful people, like you and me, set aside some extra time and space to re-examine our lives and our faith. It is a time to repent, that is, to turn back to God; a time of intensified worship, prayer and fasting; a special time to mend our own ways, and to re-examine how we might serve those who are in need. This time of concentrated focus allows us to either start or to re-start living the good and grace-filled lives God intends for us, because anything short of living as God intends, means death.

I think most of us consider death the enemy. Much energy and resources, and even pressure gleaned from advertising is directed at forestalling, if not clearly denying, death. We undergo painful procedures to maintain a youthful appearance. We only post Kenworthy Funeral Home for the sponsorship of Hanover Cares: House the Homeless. The on air personalities of Joe Black, Bill O'Brien and Dave Canon made our 16hours of air time so enjoyable and provided a way to express the need for Changing Lives and allowed our Committee, volunteers and staff to share our experiences and appeal for funding for the continued operations of our shelter. And , for you the listening audience, you had the pleasure of hearing some of the wonderful talent both from the show and friends of the Council who wished to perform. Our Thank You goes to Stephen Winkler, Emma Hyson, to Jim Papoutsis, Rev. Brandon Grady and his brother Ben as well as, Rowan Barber, Kaitlyn Gabler and April Cuffley all wonderful vocalists and musicians who entertained us and allowed us enjoy their talents. And last, but not least to all who listened and called in with their pledges, and those of you who didn't call but are sending donations to help us fulfill our mission to provide for the immediate needs of people in desperate circumstances, while we seek to provide a successful lifestyle change by addressing the root cause of their situations.

Thank you to each of you who read this and will wish to help by volunteering. Currently our need is for volunteers over dinner hours (4pm-8pm or whatever portion you could do on Monday, Thursday or Saturday, also Monday 7am- 11am. 1pm to 5pm. Thank you to those who will help by organizing a drive for pillows and blankets, for socks and coats, for ponchos and gloves. And to you who will offer to help in other ways and to you who will hold all of us in your prayers... residents (men, women and children), volunteers, and staff.

God bless information to our social media that will portray a happy and fulfilling life. We are reluctant to disclose anything that is difficult because it might be embarrassing. Embarrassing? Because we are not perfect, that we don't suffer loss, and that we will not one day face death? Phooey!

Lent calls us to BE REAL. The plain fact is, that life is filled by challenges, testing, feeling overwhelmed, difficult news, and tragic loss. But, Lent allows us, once again, to deeply understand Christ's suffering, death AND, at Easter, to celebrate LIFE through the resurrection! This knowledge renews our courage and our hope, so we can have the courage to cope with the challenges that face us.

In Baptism we receive the affirmation, acceptance and the promise of accompaniment from the God; the same one who created the heavens and the earth; the same one who causes light to shine in the darkness; and the same one who is able to raise the dead to life. If God is for us then, who is against us? Of course we will be called to testing, challenge, suffering and growth. But, the world God loves and gives to us, needs our care and attention, our action and commitment, and God has called us to be part of the struggle as agents of love, however that might show itself. Yes, we may labor. Yes, we may struggle but, because of Christ, we also can have hope, which gives us the confidence to know that because Jesus was raised from the dead, when all is said and done, NOTHING can defeat those who know God's love and life-giving grace.

The Stolte Scholarship Fund provides a one-time grant of $500 to a college or seminary student studying for the ministry or other church related vocation. We are asking you to please let any prospective candidate in your congregation know about the opportunity provided by the Stolte Scholarship Fund. The deadline for accepting applications this year is April 30, 2018. In 2017, the committee was pleased to select Sarah Lyon as the recipient of the 2017 Stolte Scholarship. A graduate of James Madison University, Sarah attends the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg and is pursuing a Masters' of Divinity degree. She serves as the Ministry and Practice student at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Hanover.

HACC HAPPY GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The official month is February, but 2018 is the fiftieth anniversary year of the founding of the Hanover Area Council of Churches. A lot of things have changed since that initial beginning fifty years ago. This next year follow us as we relate the path that the Lord has led the dedicated volunteers who started this organization.

An Open House Thank You will be on April 8, 2018 at the Council building.

This is an important event in a union of so many different denominations. We serve together for the greater good of our community with the purpose of meeting the physical, social, psychological and spiritual needs of those in need.

We have been blessed through the many years of serving Christ in Hanover.

MY INTRODUCTION TO HACC

I became aware of the Hanover Area Council of Churches in ca-1990. I had recently become active in church work at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in McSherrystown. (Don't ever let anyone know you're willing to do some volunteer work—you'll be engaged forever.) In our efforts to grow our congregation, I thought we should have a hymn sing, and invite everyone to come. Our pastor, Rev. Peter Nodyne, was much smarter than I was—he suggested I take the idea to a HACC meeting, so that we could be assured of a good crowd. When I did this and said we wanted to have a hymn sing, Pastor David was the Public coordinator. He took hold of this idea and went to work. He invited several groups and individuals as special performers, and St. Paul had a packed house at the first hymn sing. Well, you can't stop there—regular hymn sings prevailed for several years—at first in small churches, then in larger ones, until the public was all sung out. But, all of the churches at HACC did a grand job of organizing hymn sings, and that period of years brought much enjoyment to the Hanover area.

Hymn singing was not my only pleasantry with HACC. I am a walker, and have been all my life. I still am, with Scottie Douglas, and other walkers. The CROP Walk drew me to HACC again. I participated in Waynesboro and then, moving to Hanover, joined the crowd of 300 to walk here. I not only walked, but became one of the chairmen for a couple of years. Our committee put together a street banner which was installed across Carlisle Street for many years. Some on that committee are still very active. Some activities of HACC are not only charitable, but also very enjoyable. I still see many of the walkers from the 90s.

Public relations is one of my fun activities. I did the p.r. for a couple of years, and learned so much about HACC. At one time I learned of the Provide-A-Lunch program and met a whiz at that function – Jean Smith. She was such a natural for this kind of activity. She said if someone in town needs a hot meal—without exception—they need to come to PAL. While I was p.r. chairman, I reached out to, among other media, WITF. Well, I had a phone call from Janelle Stelson, who wanted a quote from me about the 10th year anniversary of PAL. I was stunned to receive the call; but, was really impressed with myself for hearing from two people at work the next day that they heard about Provide-A-Lunch on the radio, and they heard me. I was excited!

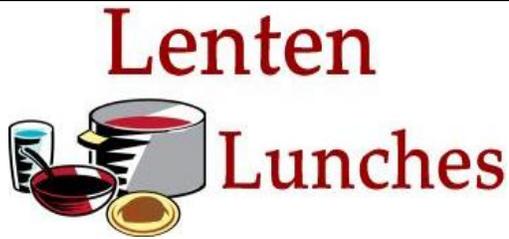

And, along with all the services that HACC provides—a clothing bank, PAL, a homeless shelter, Meals on Wheels, 2016 saw the beginning of vegetable gardens at churches to bring fresh vegetables to the already good supply of food from HACC and New Hope Ministries. The really amazing thing in the HACC ventures is that it's all voluntary. And, that, in itself, is delightful for the organization!! It speaks volumes of goodness performed by these folks on a daily basis. God Bless HACC and the scores of Volunteers!
