From the desk of Carol Hinkle (HACC Director)

It's mid-October and I am thinking, "What is the most important message I should share this month in the newsletter?" There is so much happening in November; first, there is the election on the third, then there is the Covid19 Pandemic, Thanksgiving and only two months until Christmas. What will these events look like in a Covid-19 world?

The election is in God's hands because no one serves without His knowledge. Do your part and vote! Then there is Covid-19, along with the regular precautions we take: temperatures, masks and handwashing, I ask that we remember our seniors, who may feel isolated, in prayer. Also, pray for our children whose education is suffering, those who are not in school where teachers are able to notice signs of abuse and those all over the country who lack the means to learn over the internet without in person instruction. We could well be losing a generation to despair. "Our help comes from the Lord" Psalms 121:2. Therefore we should all "Pray without ceasing" 1Thesalonians 5:17. The needs of our land are great. Our God is greater - Now is certainly the time to call on His name.

As Thanksgiving approaches, we still have much for which to be thankful. This is still a land of plenty and still a land of freedoms unlike any nation in history. A nation where our Lord still reigns and still answers prayers.

We are grateful for the therapeutics that are available for those afflicted with Covid. We are especially thankful for the doctors and nurses, emergency personnel, and all hospital personnel who have been so diligent at caring for our community in this pandemic. We are grateful for the blessings of the ministries that stretch out a helping hand to those in need and for the servants sent who give their time and talents to assist.

We are so thankful for all that is happening here at the Council of Churches. I know I keep repeating it, but it is so worth saying "God is good at all time, all the time God is Good". Volunteers who have seen or heard about what we do here, have wanted to help us and have blessed us so richly. Due to the pandemic, many of our volunteers have no longer been able to help, and we cannot thank them enough for their many, many years of service. Know that we miss you and appreciate all that you have done for us. We pray that someday you will be able to come back to us. To all the new volunteers we say thank you for blessing us and those we serve.

So many gifts from a good God; we will praise Him and give Him our thanks. As always, keep us in your prayers. HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Blessings,
Carol

From the desk of Rev. Nancy Werner (Council President)

"Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice." (Philippians 4:4) Notice what comes up in your thoughts and feelings when you read this verse. Does it feel more like a command? Does it feel like gratitude could rise naturally from your current circumstances, or would you have to work at it?

Given all that has happened this year, more things in our lives are complicated and unresolved on an individual level and on the community and national level. The approaching Thanksgiving holiday makes us, as God's people, wrestle with this question, "How do we rejoice when things are complicated and unresolved?" St. Paul wrote, "Rejoice in the Lord always..." He did not write, "Rejoice in the Lord when everything gets back to normal."

St. Paul's words emphasize that now is the time for rejoicing! Now is the time to thank the Lord. Now is the time to live with hope, even though we are facing an unknown future.

All of us know that people and objects do not cease to exist when we cannot see them. Pause and think for a moment or recall in your mind what the sun feels like on your skin. This is possible in the dark of night or sheltered inside. Think for a moment or recall in your mind a time when you were very thirsty. Did you believe water still existed even though you were that thirsty? Are you able to quiet your mind, center your thoughts on the Lord, relax your muscles, and recognize the Lord's blessings in the present moment? This action is recalling what peace feels like even when you are knee-deep in difficulties, challenges, demands, pain or suffering. Rejoicing always is a very similar practice.

Rejoicing or gratitude is a spiritual practice and an expression of faith. Faith declares, "I will look first for what God has already done for me," and not merely on what God has not yet done or not yet done to my expectations.

Circumstances around COVID-19 have prevented us from rejoicing together at our community Thanksgiving Eve worship service. However, those circumstances will not silence the rejoicing occurring wherever God's faithful people happen to be on Thanksgiving!

From the desk of Mirna Wildasin (HACC Associate Executive Director)

Over the last several months, you have read or heard about changes that were made regarding the staffing and partners within our organization, HACC. As the new Associate Executive Director, I feel extremely blessed for the opportunity, but mostly happy as I announce a new Ministry partner for the Hanover Area Council of Churches. The Hanover Diversity Alliance is our new partner who has joined efforts to assist us in striving daily to continue improving both the quality and variety of our bilingual and literacy educational services that we provide.

Hanover Area Diversity Alliance began in September 2017 as a discussion group about racial issues within the community. Their first public events were a Speakers' Series at Guthrie Memorial Library, and a holiday event. In 2018, they added the Hanover Diversity Festival and now housed on the second level of the HACC's building providing additional services such as English as a Second Language, GED classes, Literacy Counseling, and will serve as the co-chairs of our Annual Diversity Summit and Kids' Day Celebration.

Our foremost goal is to satisfy the needs of our community by providing our best services. This partnership will surely help us enhance and enrich our organization and provide newer services.

We warmly welcome our new Ministry partner, and we are looking forward to a successful partnership.

Many blessings,

Mirna Wildasin
Associate Executive Director
